Art Unit: 1774

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 30-33,39,40,43,45-50 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over De Zen(US 6189269 B1) in view of Markush(US 4097422).

The primary reference teaches the basic claimed invention including an elongated construction element of thermoplastic synthetic material with reinforcing elements therein- col 2, lines 40-49; col 8, lines 50-56; col 7, lines 22-52; col 9, lines 53-63. The primary reference fails to teach wood particles in its thermoplastic synthetic material.

The secondary reference to Markush, however, teaches that it is known in the art to include wood particles in thermoplastic material such as taught by the primary reference- col 13, lines 53-60; col 22, lines 49-61; col 25, lines 63-37. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention is made to combine the teachings of the secondary reference and facilitate the primary reference with such wood particles, to impart desired characteristic to the patented element of the primary reference, in the absence of unexpected results. , Concerning claims 49 and 50, the secondary reference teaches glass fibers- col 22, lines 14-16 - see primary reference, col 2, lines 40-45; col 7, line 35. Concerning claims 31-33, the secondary reference teaches the claimed wood [particle amounts in col 13, lines 54-56. concerning claims 39, 43, 45-48 and 40, the primary reference teaches similar claimed profile in figs 3 and 4. see entire reference.

Claims 34-38 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over De Zen('269) and Markush('422) as applied to claims 30-33,39,40,43-50 above, and further in view of West et al(US 3856891).

The West et al patent teaches that it is known in the art to utilize elongated construction element of similarly claimed modulus as required by claims 34-36- see claims 1,2..

Concerning claims 37 and 38, the '891 reference teaches its product "nailable" - col 2, lines 30-35.

Applicant's arguments filed 3-16-06 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicants argue that De Zen teaches away from the claimed invention for the reference uses short fibers. The examiner is unable to find such disclosure from the reference of its fibers being short relative to another type fiber. In other word, "short" is so relative that it could read on the claimed invention's fibers. Further, it is thus submitted that any change of sizes is generally recognized as being within the level of ordinary skill in the art. In re Rose, 105, USPQ 237(CCPA 1985). Applicants finally argue that the reference fail to teach embedded reinforcing elements. The examiner disagrees and points applicants to secondary reference, col 13, lines 54-56.

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.

This application contains claims 1-29,41,42 drawn to an invention nonelected with . A complete reply to the final rejection must include cancellation of nonelected claims or other appropriate action (37 CFR 1.144) See MPEP § 821.01.
